

A Day in the Life

Rise and shine! A new day awaits.

And SparkPost is here to keep you on track with the latest updates in your social networks, work inbox, and financials. Why's that? Because 25% of non-spam email is sent through our software. Walk with us for a moment.

Good morning! Twitter alerts you of what's trending in the news as you prepare for the day.

At the office, you receive an email from Zenefits letting you know that open enrollment will start next week.

Massdrop

During your morning commute, Massdrop alerts you that those headphones you've been eying just dropped in price.

GROUPON

Lunch time! You head out to try that new Italian deli, Fabrizio's, thanks to your Groupon daily deal.

ZipRecruiter

As you walk back to the office, ZipRecruiter emails you some new resumes for the manager role you are hiring for.

SurveyMonkey

On your way home, Survey Monkey sends you a questionnaire asking for feedback about your new spin class instructor.

Booking.com

After dinner, you receive an email from Booking.com highlighting a trip to Amsterdam you've been dying to take.

Good night, we'll see you soon!

Whenever you check your email it's likely that you are interacting with SparkPost.

That's because the who's who of e-businesses, retailers, technology companies, publishing companies, and more power their communications through SparkPost.

So rest well. We look forward to spending another day with you tomorrow.
